UPHOLSTERY & CONTRACT
100% MADE IN ITALY

Our Story

The company stems from the vision and over 40 years of expertise of master craftsman Dridi Mahmoud. In 2019, driven by the ambition to create a comprehensive, 360-degree upholstery workshop, he founded DridiHome in Manzano

Over the years, DridiHome has expanded its service capabilities and consolidated its market presence, becoming a trusted technical partner for bespoke and contract projects. Today, the company continues to grow, seamlessly combining fine sartorial craftsmanship with uncompromising quality, innovation, and dedicated customer care.

Where?

Our operational headquarters and production workshop are located in Via del Cristo 64, Manzano (Udine) set right between Italy's renowned Chair District and the prestigious Collio region.

This unique location embeds our craftsmanship in one of the world's most celebrated manufacturing and cultural hubs, synonymous with authentic Italian quality and design.

How We Work

Project Analysis & Technical Engineering

We bring over 40 years of artisanal and technical expertise to the table, working side by side with architects, designers, and project managers. We review every single executive detail, carefully evaluating structural behavior, padding density, fabric performance, and exact material consumption.

This deep mastery of materials and techniques allows us to anticipate potential on-site challenges, optimize production costs, and offer tailored technical solutions that enhance the final quality without compromising the original design intent.

Planning & Supply Chain Excellence

Every production stage is meticulously planned and monitored.

Backed by a strong network of certified local suppliers from the Chair District and premium international partners, we deliver the highest quality standards on the market.

Rigorous Quality Control

Strict quality checks are performed across all phases of production, ensuring that every upholstered piece flawlessly aligns with the original project requirements.

Dedicated After-Sales & On-Site Support

Our commitment to the client extends far beyond the final delivery. We provide a fully responsive, custom after-sales service: should any unforeseen issue, last-minute project change, or touch-up requirement arise, we are ready to take immediate action, including direct on-site assistance.

Whether it involves on-site adjustments during installation, unexpected site modifications, or specialized technical support, our ongoing presence guarantees that every project maintains uncompromised standards over time.

Why Choose Us

Choosing DridiHome means relying on a manufacturing partner that seamlessly combines authentic Made in Italy craftsmanship with a structured, international project management approach. Driven by over 40 years of hands-on expertise, our workshop serves as a reliable and experienced technical partner for architects, developers, and furniture brands who demand uncompromised standards in high-end upholstery.

Our key strength lies in total quality control and material excellence: we work exclusively with ISO 9001 certified local and international suppliers (alongside ISO 14001 environmental management and strict DIN/EN fire-safety standards), ensuring full traceability and high performance across all components for contract and hospitality projects. Whether providing specialized contract upholstery services (working with client-supplied frames and fabrics) or engineering complex prototypes and custom items for bespoke projects, we offer complete operational flexibility.
